

"The Year in Construction"

PHOTO CONTEST

For the closing issue of 2003, ENR wants to capture "The Year in Construction" through the photos readers have taken of projects and people. We're asking our readers—individuals and firms, amateur photographers or pros—to submit their best construction photos, taken anywhere in the world between Nov. 1, 2002 and Oct. 31, 2003.

We want dynamic, well-composed, dramatic and aesthetically pleasing pictures of people at work, projects and structures, equipment and materials. A panel of judges from ENR and other McGraw-Hill publications will select the best of the best for presentation in ENR's issue of Dec. 29. Please complete all sections of the entry form below and mail it along with the photograph(s) to ENR, Two Penn Plaza - 9th Floor, New York, NY 10121 or e-mail the complete information and digital images to:

enr_photo_contest@mcgraw-hill.com no later than Nov. 7, 2003. We look forward to seeing your work. Good luck!

Specifications:

Prints, slides or digital images may be submitted, but regardless of format, each image should be labeled with the submitter and photographer's names and a sequential number (i.e. HammerConstruction/Jones1.jpg etc.) Label prints on the back, slides on the mounts and re-name digital files. Digital images may be mailed to us on a CD if accompanied by a copy of this form, or may be attached to e-mails with the requested information.

Digital images must be in either .jpg or .tif file formats and must have minimum resolution of 300 dpi at four inches in their longest dimension.

Submitters are limited to three images per project. Images will not be returned. By signing below if submitting by mail, or by warranting if transmitting images electronically, the owner of the image copyright agrees to grant Engineering News-Record, for no fee, the print and electronic publication rights to their entry, should it be selected as a contest winner.
